Clinical Update Letter

Reference:Patient ID:*Patient Name:*Dean Butler*Date of Birth:*Address:*Diagnosis:*Attention deficit hyperactivity disorder - combined presentation (ICD11 - 6A05.2)*Medication:*Elvanse 60mg Capsules*FAO The Cambridgeshire and Peterborough NHS Foundation Trust (CPFT) ADHD Team

To Whom It May Concern,

Dean Butler joined Psymplicity in September 2020, following a diagnosis of ADHD in November 2020, made by Dr James Walsh. Under Dr Walsh's care, he was initiated on a Shared Care Agreement for Methylphenidate HCL 10mg three times a day.

I first reviewed Dean in August 2025, during which I carried out a reassessment and diagnosed him with Adult ADHD previously complicated with excess alcohol use to self-medicate inadequately managed ADHD symptoms, however since September 2025 I reviewed his treatment and swapped the stimulant medication from Methylphenidate to Elvanse cautiously under close review and supervision recently titrated to 60mg daily dose. Elvanse has been more effective for him, and he is managing to control his alcohol intake and has tolerated the switch rather well.

Regarding the Shared Care Agreement, the patient informed us that his current GP (Huntington Road Surgery) is reluctant to continue prescribing the ADHD medication due to the diagnosis being made privately and not through the NHS, so there is no obligation to support him with accessing ongoing treatment, as the patient mentioned. It is important for Dean to be supported with accessing effective treatment for his ADHD more affordably and efficiently, so his symptoms are controlled and to prevent him from reverting back to depending on excess alcohol.

This letter is to update you on his situation and the difficulties he has been experiencing with his current GP. The patient is continuing to receive monthly prescriptions from us of Elvanse 60mg Capsules OD.

It is important to note that his previous GP had agreed for him to be prescribed Methylphenidate under the NHS service, and the review appointments took place under your team. Since switching to his current GP this has not been set up. Hence, we would really appreciate if you could slightly speed the process and allowing him to continue getting his new treatment regime from the NHS.

Yours sincerely,
